Butcher & Still transforms the steak restaurant experience with its rustic, retro design inspired by a 1920s Chicago steakhouse.

Enjoys views of the city’s waterfront as you dine on prime-cut steaks, flown in from specially selected farms in the United States. Pair your steak with an array of side dishes, exclusive sauces and homemade bread. Then wash it all down with an inventive cocktail – the restaurant boasts an antique “Tanqueray No. 10 Imperial Martini Shaker,” one of five in the world and the only one to reside in the Middle East.

The Heritage Village in Abu Dhabi is a tranquil nod back to an earlier time in Abu Dhabi, and the eatery choices at Al Asalah echo the vibe perfectly. With the blue waters of the Abu Dhabi breakwater providing the sparkling backdrop for the Al Asalah restaurant, the dining experience is pleasurable before even entering the venue. The menu is an extensive buffet of cold and hot dishes. The choice also includes a fresh market-style fish display and a range of meats, all of which can be grilled on the spot to your preference. It's so substantial that it is best to pace yourself to leave the restaurant without having managed to sample everything on offer would be a disappointing feeling. We realized our eyes were bigger than our bellies and had to forgo the delightful array of delicately presented desserts.
